

April 2008 Issue of Teddy Bear Review

Not only were the good folks at Teddy Bear Review nice enough to do a feature article on me and my work but they even chose one of my bears, Sadie, to feature on the cover!

The four page article also included numerous photos of my work. Most of the photos were from my new quirky style that I've drifted towards over the past year. I'm not exactly what you would call my "style" because it's kind of a mix of my love of Anime and Prim. Maybe I've invented something new - Pranime? Anyway, here is a little snap shot of each of the pages that was included in the article.
